E: hello@publicsectornetwork.com

Throughout 2021, public sector leaders have continued to show resilience and to innovate despite persistent challenges. Over the past year we have seen how public sector leaders have been at the forefront of change and have adapted to unprecedented circumstances with unmitigated courage and conviction. This past year has only reinforced the need for public sector engagement and innovation – further fueled by intractable challenges such as COVID-19 and Climate Change.

Those very challenges however provide us with opportunities. As we pivot towards 2022 - and redouble our efforts to be a force for positive change throughout the public sector – Public Sector Network will look to galvanize, educate, and inspire public servants across the US. We will explore and address challenges ranging from cybersecurity to data governance, from digital transformation and IT integration, to DEI initiatives and the Future of Work, and of course public health and social justice. It is incumbent upon public sector leaders nationwide to continue to be at the vanguard of change and innovation – and Public Sector Network's series of Community-focused, and led, programs have been designed with that in-mind.

So where do we go from here? How do you ensure that you are staying up to date on everything happening throughout the public sector, and continuing to engage with your public sector peers – in both virtual and in-person formats?

Public Sector Network will provide a series quarterly virtual events dedicated to keeping public sector leaders plugged in and with their finger on the pulse of change. By showcasing a range of perspectives and solutions through case studies, panel discussions, fireside chats, and keynote speeches – you have the opportunity to learn from public sector leaders, share your initiatives, and continue to build the relevant and necessary communities that will help to impact the challenges of today and tomorrow.

- Engage with key government executives and public sector leaders including both decision makers and direct influencers in the following Communities: IT & Innovation, Data Management & Analytics, Digital Government & Citizen Experience, Cyber Security & Risk Management, and Human Resources & Future of Work
- Meet with representatives from State, Local, Tribal, & Territorial Government Departments and Agencies from around the United States
- Explore and understand the pressing challenges and obstacles plaguing your potential clients
- Promote your brand as an industry leader and forge lasting relationships
- Leverage on-going discussions and collateral distribution opportunities through PSN's community platform
- Participate how you feel most comfortable – Virtual, In-Person, or Both!

How We Help

Digital events provide a unique platform for public servants — across different tiers, provinces, agencies and departments — to meet and discuss innovative case studies and solutions.

They also provide a fantastic opportunity for vendors to identify, engage and educate a diverse group of buyers that are typically difficult to reach.

Our audience profile is typically made up of mid-level managers to senior executives who are responsible for major projects, supplier selection and spend.

Public Sector Network runs four events per quarter – ensuring a regular touchpoint in the market.

The information was very practical and highlighted everyday issues we encounter. I believe case studies help a lot in making the case for some of the more abstract concepts. The live examples and real scenarios were really useful.

Public Sector Innovation Series Transforming Government Through Technology-Driven Initiatives

The Public Sector Innovation Series (PSIS) is designed as in-person, large scale events held across one full-day. Featuring a conference and exhibitions that bring together a dedicated group of senior level public sector leaders to address the most pressing issues facing the public sector in the world of innovation.

Held across the country, these shows are ‘must-attend’ events for public servants; providing an opportunity to meet with their peers and hear from credible service providers and industry partners.

Each program will feature the latest initiatives from throughout each host-state; sharing insights via keynote presentations, case studies, panel discussions, and fireside chats. To provide additional perspective – concurrent tracks will address more specific topics and challenges in the worlds of technology, people, data & process faced by public sector leaders today. This allows us to further segment the audience based on their roles, responsibilities, and areas of passion.

Complimenting the program will be an exhibition and networking area – showcasing the latest in emerging technologies and public sector relevant solutions. Engage with leaders more directly through private lunches and co-located roundtable conversations. We’ll also save time for some levity during our Networking Luncheon & Breaks, and wrap-up the day with a libation or two during our Networking cocktail reception.

The Public Sector Innovation Series is your opportunity to engage with executive-level State leaders from around the country including California, Virginia, New York and more. Engage with key government decision makers, explore the scope and structure of existing initiatives, and engage directly to develop mutually beneficial relationships.
