

Richard White

Founder & CEO
WiseTech Global

Biography

From its inception in 1994, as an idea in his basement in Newtown, Sydney, Richard has grown WiseTech Global into a more than $18 billion (AUD) global technology company covering over 170 countries and employing more than 2,000 staff worldwide. In April 2016, Richard listed the company on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX:WTC). Since then, it has grown rapidly to be the major global supplier of logistics execution software and counts 24 of the top 25 global freight forwarders as customers.

Richard has over 30 years' experience in software development, embedded systems and business management and over 20 years of freight and logistics industry experience. He has an extensive knowledge of logistics operations, cross border and supply chain compliance, and a deep technical understanding of e-commerce and global industry and technology issues.
