10:40am Partner Session: A Safer Calgary: The Transformative Power of Art, Culture, and Creative Industries

- Community Building and Safety. Downtown arts districts are about more than culture. By offering spaces and activities for people of all ages and backgrounds, they can transform once-deserted downtowns into thriving, 24-hour, multi-generational communities that are safer for everyone, not just during the day, but at night and on weekends.
- Cultural Inclusivity, Reconciliation and Community Cohesion. Creating downtown cultural districts fosters inclusivity, reconciliation, and community cohesion, helping the city better understand and respect diverse communities by celebrating Indigenous heritage alongside other cultural expressions.
- Attracting Remote Workers, Students, Visitors and Families. The cultural amenities, co-working spaces, and a thriving night-time economy make the city centre an enticing destination for work, entrepreneurship, research, and leisure. The return of remote workers, families and tourists supports essential services, boosts downtown businesses, and contributes to the sustainability of a safe a diverse, safe, and inclusive 24-hour urban experience.
