Are you a public sector woman in a managerial position who is ready to unlock your leadership potential? While some of us are imbued with natural leadership abilities, governance potential exists within all of us. Harnessing Tools and Strategies for Effective Women's Leadership and Influence is specially designed for women in managerial roles who are eager to unlock their full potential and become a force to be reckoned with.

This training course will draw upon tried and tested techniques to equip you with the skills necessary to command respect, build trust, and inspire those around you. Specifically tailored to women who are looking to learn and enhance key management skills, this course is tailored to help you embrace key strategies for developing a strong leadership presence. You will learn how to bring out the best in your people and lead from a position of firmness, fairness, and quiet strength; you will feel empowered, inspired, and ready to take on any leadership challenge that comes your way.

Good leaders bring out the best in others because they know how to build trust, encourage confidence, and command respect. Great leaders inspire others to follow their initiatives, adapt their ideas, and perform above and beyond their own capabilities on a regular basis. What is it that makes a leader and what separates the good from the great? How can you become a more powerful, effective, and respected leader? Don't miss out on this opportunity to join other like-minded women at the helm to share insights and walk away with the confidence boost that comes with knowing you have what it takes to lead with authority and excellence!

Key Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Get to grips with the key skills, mindset and personality traits necessary to be an effective leader
- Understand your workplace communication style and how to effectively flex and adapt to suit your workplace culture
- Learn how to be a strategic leader that creates a culture of empathy while motivating and developing your teams
- Understand your role as a coach and leader to define your own professional brand
- Effectively communicate with confidence to influence, provide impactful feedback and advocate for yourself and others

PRIYA SODHA
Executive Trainer & DEI Professional

Priya Sodha, Executive Trainer & DEI professional, has been facilitating transformational workshops and trainings for organizations for over 10 years. She specializes in leadership development, communication, diversity, equity and inclusion, and people-focused leadership; and is passionate about this work because she truly believes in the human connection. Priya is the founder of The Empowered Managers Training Program, where early career managers go through a 6 month leadership program within their company.

Prior to corporate training, Priya earned her Masters in Organizational Change Management at The New School, in New York City, & her BA in Sociology at California State University of Long Beach, where she specialized in interaction and group relations. Her work has led her to serving as an Executive Director for the Youth Business Alliance & Director of Career Development at Calbright College.

In addition to her Masters, Priya is a Certified Professional Group Coach and holds a certificate in Effective Leadership at The Management Institute. She is also an active #IamRemarkable Facilitator, a Google initiative where she speaks on the topic of self-promotion for women in the workplace & most recently spoke at The Women of Silicon Valley Conference on Communicating with Confidence. In her most recent work with education based colleges in CA, she was highlighted as a trainer “who cares about her participants, which is seen through her engaging content & applicable activities during her sessions.”

Priya currently lives in Southern California. Fun fact: When Priya is not working, you can find her teaching Zumba/Yoga or playing with her pup, Zuri.
